Her Majesty Shahbanou Farah Pahlavi's statement on the Accord between the current government of Iran and the six world powers

Dear Compatriots,

After many years of arduous negotiations a nuclear agreement has finally been signed between the current government of Iran and the international community.

It is my hope that the agreement will end the economic sanctions that have caused so much needless suffering for the people of Iran. It is also my hope that in addition to improvements in the standard of living, the normalization of relations between Iran and other countries will lead to advancements in human rights for all Iranians.
